[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO DECEMBER 10.

German Accounts of Recent Fighting.

NEW YORK, Dec 9.—The Prussians sent a flag into Paris to announce that Orleans is taken and the Loire army routed, with a loss of 30 guns and 1,000 prisoners. There is a report that Ducrot is killed.

The King of Prussia telegraphs to the Queen on the 5th, that Orleans was occupied last night, without being stormed. The 3d corps took nine cannon and one mitrailleuse. The 8th corps of the first army, on the 4th, beat the French in several conflicts in the northeast. Rouen is taken with its guns and 400 prisoners. The Prussian loss is one killed and 40 wounded.

Frightful Losses in Late Battles.

NEW YORK, Dec 9.—A dispatch from King William to the Queen, states that 10,000 prisoners and 77 guns were captured at Orleans. The Duke of Mecklenburg reports that he captured 14,000 prisoners between the 2d and 3d inst. His loss is 3,200. The French lost 2,000 killed.

N. Y. Tribune's Account.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The Tribune's correspondent telegraphs that the whole number of German forces engaged in the recent operations in the vicinity of Orleans, was only 22,000. This force, it seems, had been detailed for an offensive movement. The programme was greatly complicated by the unexpected counter offensive movement of the French, projected against Villiers, and with hopes of ultimately breaking through the cordon surrounding them. Thus it happened that when the Germans were pressing in to drive the French from Brie and Champigny, the French were pouring out to take Villiers.

The correspondent thus speaks of the result and losses. Not much have the Saxons gained, for there was not much to gain. The Wurtembergers hold one end of Champigny. Brie stands empty and desolate. There were no French in it this morning, but later there were Saxons, and that is all. We cannot tell the number of dead, but the German wounded were over 1,000. The French, (if they had fewer killed and wounded,) lost 1,000 prisoners. Had it been possible for the Saxons to hold Brie, the French advance would have been impossible. The flanking fire would have prohibited, breasting the slope towards Villiers. The French had mitrailleuses somewhere in the plain. At any rate, the day's work was a final failure of the French hopes. The German line stood, everywhere unbroken, and Paris was no more free than before.

Havre Threatened.

HAVRE, Dec 7.—Ironclads have been ordered by the French government to repair immediately to Havre, to assist in the defence of the city.

General War Dispatches.

VERSAILLES, Dec 7.—The pursuit of the army of the Loire continues.

A large number of French officers, prisoners in Germany, protest against the restoration of Bonaparte.

BERLIN, Dec 7.—A provincial correspondent says the proposed amendments to constitutional treaties are irrelevant, and their adoption would endanger affairs on the conclusion of peace.

LONDON, Dec 7.—The steamer Union parted midships. Only a little of her cargo was saved.

LONDON, Dec 8.—Five hundred guns, Colt's manufacture, was seized by the Government on their arrival here.

Laon is invested by the Prussians. They exact 7,000,000 francs indemnity in Burgundy, for the expulsion of Germans.

Englishmen are arriving from Havre, which the Prussians are hourly expected to invest.

TOURS, Dec 8.—A dispatch announces that Montargis was evacuated by the Prussians last night. The army of the Loire has begun a forward movement.

Advices from Paris to the 8th say the Parisians are constructing defensive works back of the first lines, from which the French drove them. A large number of Prussian prisoners were taken to Paris after the battle of the 2d.

French Accounts of Recent Fighting.

LONDON, Dec 8.—A correspondent telegraphs from Tours on the 7th that the Government states that the army of the Loire is at its old quarters, but the locality is not given. The evacuation of Orleans was caused by the demoralization of some new French troops and mistaken strategy and the indecision of Gen Palladines, who allowed two corps to be overwhelmed by the whole Prussian army, although he had 200,000 men within reach. The army of the Loire consisted of 300,000 men and 1,000 guns. In the engagement of the 3d and 4th corps only 30,000 French fought against 150,000 Germans. The plan of the campaign was devised by Gambetta, aided by De Vere, and was either not carried out or its plan was erroneous.

The Eastern Question.

TURKEY, Dec. 7.—[illegible] has already been issued. Ignatieff has [illegible] Gortschakoff that Turkey is wholly prepared for war. The Austrian Minister of War says Austria has now in stock 90,000 Werndell rifles, and 700,000 uniforms, and that it will require from one to two months to place the army on a war footing.

In addressing the delegates at Pesth, Von Beust said Austria seeks a conference, but while abandoning the neutralization of the Black Sea, freedom of the mouths of the Danube must be assured before them.

Russian dispatches in the matter of the Euxine have been sent to Vienna, Florence, Tours and Constantinople. They are similar to the one sent to Branow. The tenor of all the Russian demands is that they are essential to the maintenance of peace.

Russia Preparing for War.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A correspondent at St. Petersburg, writes on the 2d inst. that an order was given by the Emperor to the reserve corps to hold themselves in readiness, which is considered of great importance. This measure has not been resorted to since the Crimean war. It has been announced by the Emperor that forty million rubles would be devoted to extraordinary war expenses. By the 1st of January 497,000 remodeled guns, and 150,000 breech loaders will be ready for use.

Ministerial Crisis in Austria.

LONDON, Dec 7.—The ministerial crisis in Vienna continues. The result is pending on the delegations. The Russian reply to Austria was read by Novikoff to Von Beust, with verbal explanations. The Ambassador promises a satisfactory basis for a conference.

Italian Affairs.

FLORENCE, Dec 9.—Brancherri is elected President of the Lower Chamber.

Aosta goes to Spain about the 1st of January.

The Spanish deputation is warmly welcomed everywhere. It has been to Turin to congratulate Princess Maria Vittoria, the future Queen of Spain.

Schemes to Restore Napoleon.

WILHELMSHOHE, Dec 5.—A general impression prevails that the prospects of the restoration of the Emperor are steadily improving. Important movements are evidently on the tapis here. Distinguished guests move backward and forward, whose names are kept secret, and who are constantly closeted with the Emperor.

England and America.

LONDON, Dec 8.—The Post sees no hope of better relations with America, as the best Americans avoid or are driven from political life. Men like Butler wield the political influence, and ostentatious courtesy is shown to nations supposed to be unfriendly to England, who asks no indemnity for insults heaped upon her in consequence of the Alabama matters, but craves a settlement of claims, not only because they are just but as inaugurating between the two nations a feeling of closer unity.

Capitulation of Paris Expected.

LONDON, Dec 7.—The town is full of rumors purporting that Paris will capitulate on the 10th inst. Great contractors are known to have prepared immense quantities of provisions to be sent to Paris, and special contracts have been made for railroad transportation.

The quarrel between Bismarck and the Crown Prince has broken out worse than ever. Clubs say that Bismarck used his influence to postpone a rupture between England and Russia only to secure the taking of the German loan for eight millions, which will be brought on the London market next week.

Paris about to Capitulate.

CHICAGO, Dec 9.—A Washington special to day says the Prussian Minister has received information that Paris will be compelled to capitulate within two weeks, and that our Government has similar information.

It is rumored that Russia has ordered a hundred mitrailleuses and a million metallic cartridges from America.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec 8.—In the House, Orth gave notice that the Committee on Foreign Affairs would next Thursday call the attention of the House to the report on Paraguayan affairs, for final consideration.

The House agreed, by a vote of 94 to 92, to adjourn over from to-day until Monday.

The Tariff bill and Internal Revenue bill of the last session were taken from the calendar of the Committee of the Whole, and recommitted to the Committee of Ways and Means.

The House then resumed consideration of the bill to revise and consolidate the postal laws.

In the Senate, a bill was introduced and laid on the table by Wilson to prevent assessments upon Government employees for political and other purposes, a bill by Nye to create a fund to be known as a mineral land fund and for other purposes.

There seems to be no doubt the income tax will be abolished this session. At least a dozen bills for that purpose are already presented, and there is a stronger feeling against the tax than ever before, it is understood, however, that a majority of the Ways and Means Committee are opposed to the immediate repeal.

The House Committee on Territories have a bill ready to report for the admission of New Mexico as a State, under the name of Lincoln, another bill will be reported, to prohibit polygamy in Utah, if the Senate does not act on the one passed by the House last session.

In the Senate, Sumner submitted a resolution calling on the President for copies of all correspondence and papers relating to the proposed annexation of San Domingo.

A bill was introduced by Nye, in relation to certain Territorial Penitentiaries, transferring the superintendence to United States Marshals of the Territories.

Army and Navy Matters.

Lieut Col Alexander S. Webb, unassigned, has been honorably discharged from the service of the United States by the President under the new army act. Capt L. Walker and Lieut Geo W. Smith have been honorably discharged from service under the same act. One hundred recruits have been ordered from New York to San Diego, Cal., to recruit the 21st Infantry.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate: Vice Admiral Porter to be Admiral, Rear Admiral [illegible] to be Vice Admiral, Commodore Jenkins to be Rear Admiral; Captain Mullaney to be Commodore, Columbus Delano to be Secretary of the Interior, Benj. H. Bristow to be Solicitor General; Clement H. Hill to be Assistant Attorney General.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The Tribune's Washington special says the appointment of Schenck to the English Mission will be promulgated in a short time. His name will be sent to the Senate for confirmation. The President several weeks ago asked him if he would accept the appointment, and it was only within the last fortnight he decided to accept.

EASTERN STATES.

Schenck to go to England.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A Washington special says the belief is strong there that Schenck has been offered the English mission. Some members state that he will be on the way to London before the 1st of January.

Cable Rates Advanced.

NEW YORK, Dec 9.—Cable rates will be advanced to $10 for ten words on Monday next, and $1 for each additional word. The advance is made in consequence of the difficulty of repairing the Anglo American cables. All messages are limited to fifty words.

South America and the United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec 9.—The Paraguayan investigating committee of the House indulges in a sweeping censure of Admiral Gordon for not affording better protection to Minister Washburne and attaches to the legation during the late war, and a court martial or a court of inquiry is likely to pronounce on his action.

Late news from Maracaibo says a treaty has been ratified between the Cuban Governor, Quesada, and the Venezuelan leader, Gusiman, and Quesada is to blockade Maracaibo with ten steamers. In return Gusiman will recognize Cuba, and provide her with arms and supplies. The Spanish officials here anticipate an early departure of another expedition.

General Ryan is now in Nassau. It is again rumored that the agents of Prim are willing to negotiate with members of the Cuban Junta.

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 10.—Negotiations with Lopez Jordan still proceed. Montevideo is closely besieged.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 9.—A lively fight between bulls and bears in the stock market is going on to-day, and the market shows some symptoms of breaking down. If it does not break within a week a number of brokers will.

A company of San Franciscans are having designs made, and will erect a first class hotel, and in some outside of San Francisco, at Oakland, near the City Hall.

A surveying party, to [illegible] on the three steamers sunk in the vicinity of Cape St. Lucas, sailed in the schooner Arizona for Manzanillo to day. They carried a full outfit and all required apparatus with them.

The Twelfth District Court was occupied all the afternoon in discussing the admissibility of the will of D. O'Hara, as evidence in the great Potrero land suit, now on trial.

The Chamber of Commerce to-day passed resolutions asking Congress to aid in establishing an American line of steamships to Australia. The Chambers of Commerce of Buffalo and Chicago will do the same. Col. Abbs leaves for Washington with the resolutions on to-morrow morning.

Raids by burglars, highwaymen and sneak thieves are becoming so common that the city has issued orders to the police to arrest all known thieves found on the streets and make charges against them. Rounders and dissolute characters will be treated in the same way.

A project is on foot to delay the erection of the City Hall on Yerba Buena Square until the next session of the Legislature, in order to get the act locating it there repealed, and have a new one passed locating it at Portsmouth, opposite the present one. The reasons are that Yerba Buena is too far distant from the center of business and its removal there will render the present City Hall almost unsalable, whereas if it is built at Portsmouth the present hall and site can be sold for nearly enough to build the new one. The opening of Montgomery Avenue to Black Point will also render the present site much more central, and turn the tide of improvement towards the northwestern part of the city.

The last 20 per cent of amounts due outside landholders for public use by the city is now being paid by the Treasurer.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VISALIA, Dec 10.—A shooting affray occurred at Kingston last night. W. W. Lane was killed by Dr Davidson. Both were in a saloon, drinking together, quarreled and scuffled, when Davidson shot Lane through the head, causing instant death. Lane was unarmed. Davidson was arrested and taken to Millerton this afternoon.

All revolvers and other weapons have been taken from the Indians on Tulare river since the murder of Mrs Bonnell and children.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Dec 9.—About two inches of snow fell early this morning. This evening it is clear and cold.

Wells, Fargo & Co ship to night five bars of bullion, valued at $3 763 32.

The Hale & Norcross Mining Company have struck a fine body of ore in the lowest level of their mine, thirteen hundred feet below the surface.

TRUCKEE, Dec 9.—The smelting works at this place commenced operations to day, with every prospect of success. Ore for reduction is principally shipped from Salt Lake City. If the enterprise proves successful, which it undoubtedly will, more of a like nature will be erected the coming spring.

RENO, Dec 10.—Chas Roberts, one of the men indicted by the grand jury for the Verdi railroad robbery, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. The trial of Roberts comes off at Washoe City next Monday.

VIRGINIA, Dec 10.—The daily yield of ore of the prominent mines on Comstock lode for the past week is as follows: Crown Point, 400 tons, Savage, 130, Hale & Norcross, 150, Chollar Potosi, 300, Gould & Curry, 60, Imperial Empire, 60, Overman, 80.

The Kentuck mine is closed, and will not be re opened for working till next March.

Jno. Stout and Jno. Derryson have been pardoned out of the State Prison by the Governor. They were sentenced from Storey county for 18 months, on a charge of assault with intent to rob, and had served out all of their term excepting five days.

Robt. Wallace, formerly a member of Engine Co No 3, was killed at Pine Grove a few days since in a fight. His antagonist struck him upon the head with a bottle, crushing in the skull and causing death in a short time.

UTAH.

CORINNE, Dec 9.—A [illegible] from Rawlings, Wyoming, dated Dec. 8th, says a jury was discharged and each fined $10, and the proceedings declared illegal by Judge Kingman, for playing cards in the jury room while deciding on a verdict.

BRYAN, Dec 9.—A snow storm prevailed here last night, and this morning about three inches has fallen.

CORINNE, Dec 10.—The Salt Lake News has the following dispatch, dated St George, U. T., Dec 10: "Pat Utah, the Yam Puto chief and leader of the Navajoes, who killed Dr Whitmore and robbed McIntyre, five years ago, has now crossed the Colorado with a band and threatened to destroy the property of the inhabitants of the southern frontier. The people of Kane, Washington, Iron and Beaver counties have been advised to keep vigilant guard over their stock, and be prepared to expel any attack made by the Navajoes and their allies.

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 9.—[illegible] dates to Dec. 1st state that Abliere, Deputy Commissioner of Mining Statistics, returned from an extensive tour among the mines of Yavapai and Mojave counties, and leaves for New York via San Francisco to-day. His report will be very favorable to those sections.

McCormick's official majority for Delegate, though not [illegible] by the [illegible], is known to be 951.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

OLYMPIA, Dec 10.—The directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad, recently arrived here, have chartered the steamer Alida, and are now examining the different points on the Sound, with a view to locating the terminus. The company have opened an office at Monticello, and are now engaging 500 men to commence the construction of the road.

Two men, named Jackson and Ben Bolt, who left Utsalady, were found on Skagit Flats this morning by Indians, Jackson being already dead, and Ben Bolt nearly so. Cause: drinking salt water and whisky, and exposure to the cold.

General Sherman on the Situation.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Nov 17, 1870.

The threatened general European war is the all important topic of conversation among the officers of the army and navy, the diplomatic corps, and, to some extent, the politicians, who are already congregated here. In a long conversation to-day Gen Sherman said that he thought Russia ought to have ingress and egress to the Black Sea, both with her war vessels and merchant marine. He expressed himself as follows:

"You can't," said he, "hold such a powerful nation in duress, and compel them forever to restrict themselves to avoid the use of such a highway as the Straits of the Dardanelles and the use of the Black Sea. The Powers who signed the treaty of 1856 should concede this and thus avoid war. Russia has been too fast, however. She should have asked for and insisted upon a Congress of the nations on the subject and there is no doubt but that her just demands would have been conceded. As it is, there is no cause for war. There is yet a chance for peace. If, however, Russia thinks her chance has come and Prussia is out of the way, war is inevitable, and it will be the most terrible and destructive that has ever yet occurred. Our hope there always is for peace, and that is, Who is to pay the bills? Even this consideration may be ignored. Prussia being the ally of Russia makes little difference. She is the ally of Russia already by being engaged with France and keeping that powerful nation and natural enemy of Russia in check, for certainly France would go against Russia if she were not engaged with Prussia, and if even as it is, to get such powerful allies as England, Austria and Italy, and doubtless Spain, Holland and Denmark, the French Government will also take sides against Russia, and thus force Prussia to become an ally of Russia.

The neutrality of Belgium will then, of course, be violated, and that country, with Luxembourg, will doubtless take sides with France and her allies, and the result may be that the greatest battles of the world will be fought within the next year, on the Prussian, Austrian and Belgian territory. The French, English, Turkish and Holland fleets will give the Russian fleets much trouble, if they do not destroy them. The Russian army, however, combined with the German, will be difficult to overcome.

Russia is a concentrated Power, so is Prussia. The others are scattered, and have the time and expense of concentration to overcome. It will be a great mistake, however, for Russia, in the event of her success, to occupy Constantinople. It will be like the Roman Empire, with its Rome and Constantinople, and may cause a division and downfall of the Empire.

If Russia insists on disregarding the treaties and no convention or congress is called, England must fight. Turkey is her great market. Its trade is hers, and if Russia conquers European Turkey, Russian merchants get all the trade as a matter of course.

If Russia conquers Turkey, and Prussia conquers France, which latter proposition looks doubtful now, the Austrian Empire will be in jeopardy. It is for this that Austria must now fight. Hungary appears to be with Austria in good faith, and thereby gives her much strength. It is just the time for Italy to go to war. It is a good way for Victor Emanuel to settle all disputes and bring the Italian nation together. As for Spain, she is a riddle to me. I think, though, that if Aosta is chosen King, the government will go with Italy and France, and thus bring all the Latin nations together against the descendant of the Saracens, Teutons and Vandals."

A strike took place in the Imperial Opera of Vienna the other day. The members of the orchestra had received an increase of salaries, and the choristers demanded the same. Their demands were refused, and so they intended to strike. The managers were in great tribulation as to what form this strike was to assume. At first it was believed that they would stay away altogether. But no, when evening came they appeared as usual, and the performance of the "Magic Flute" commenced. But fancy the astonishment of the manager and the audience when the choristers only murmured their parts. In vain did the leader gesticulate with his baton, they could hardly be heard. To increase the distress, some of the solo singers refused to sing with such a chorus, and they had to be replaced by others. But a general collapse ensued when the leader, a very excitable individual, was seized by a fit of insanity. The curtain had to go down, and the spectators received their money back at the door. Next day the demands of the chorus were satisfied.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 12 1870

Russia, Turkey and Great Britain.

The Eastern Question ' it appears, still has threatening aspects. A conference of the Great Powers is to take place in London but Russia in assenting to the conference expressly stipulates that she yields no part of her claims in the Black Sea controversy and declines positively to withdraw her original circular demanding the abrogation of a portion of the treaty of Paris concluded in 1856 after the fall of Sebastopol

[illegible] Great Britain sometimes by her diplomacy and sometimes by her arms has prevented the absorption of Turkey by her powerful neighbor of the north. It is her policy still to support Turkey, and if need be, to fight for the integrity of her territories. In 1789 the far seeing statesman Pitt in conjunction with Prussia, interfered in behalf of Turkey and arrested the march of the united Muscovite and Austrian armies, when on the high road to Constantinople. Once Great Britain rescued Turkey from the hostile designs of France and it was British arms that arrested the progress of Napoleon at the seige of Acre. In 1832 the danger of Turkey from Egypt assumed a new phase. Greece had [illegible] her independence, the successful revolt of the Pasha of Egypt and the general insubordination of the Turkish Empire reduced the Sultan to such an extremity that he called on the old enemy of his country, on Russia, for aid. The Czar readily accepted the offer of an exclusive protectorate for the Sultan, and the prize which Russia had for two centuries coveted now [illegible] to be thrown within her grasp. By the aid of Russian arms the Ottoman Government was delivered from the hostility of its [illegible] vassals, but it was not so easy to get quit of the officious protectorate of its powerful friends. But here Great Britain [illegible] Securing the co-operation of France the British Cabinet made a demand that Russia should withdraw her fleet from [illegible] and her [illegible] from the Ottoman territories. This demand was acceded to, but Russia before she yielded had the address to [illegible] with Turkey a secret treaty by [illegible] was bound to close the Dardanelles to all vessels of war except those of Russia, and in consequence the Euxine [illegible] a [illegible] lake. But not [illegible] had [illegible] fore Turkey was compelled to appeal to England to protect her [illegible] consequences of this treaty and out of [illegible] the [illegible] war

Some modification of this secret treaty was, indeed, secured in 1841, after the treaty had become known to the Western Powers, but Russia had by it acquired a supremacy in the Black Sea, which she used with threatening effect, and the [illegible] result was the war of 1854, [illegible] against Russia by England and France, to open the Black Sea to foreign vessels and to terminate the supremacy of Russia in its waters.

And now [illegible] Russia threatens as she has so often threatened heretofore, to make advances on Turkey. And again, as on former [illegible] for the [illegible] of a century, Great Britain is in her path. Russia it must be owned, has discreetly chosen her opportunity. One of the Powers that placed her under [illegible] in the Euxine fifteen years ago is prostrate. Germany's triumph over France [illegible] opportunity. Russia covets the Bosphorus, and is not at all particular how she gets. Once, while Charles X was King of France, she agreed that France might go to the Rhine, and a secret treaty was [illegible] to that effect, it being understood [illegible] Russia was to obtain her compensation in the East, and that France was to [illegible] in [illegible] of obtaining the [illegible]. Russia has worked at this problem with [illegible] energy, now attempting [illegible] and [illegible] and avoring to [illegible] with Germany, so as to carry out her [illegible]. But all the time and under all circumstances [illegible] is in her way, and the traditional policy and political and commercial [illegible] of Great Britain would compel [illegible] for [illegible] ple almost as soon as for London

Alluding to the recent manifesto of the Chicago Tribune in favor of a new party, the St. Louis Republican, the leading Democratic [illegible] of [illegible], says:

In fact, the Tribune shows that it is ready to unite with Democrats on a Democratic platform, it only [illegible] that it and those free trade Republicans who think and act with it shall not be made "responsible for, or identified with, the past errors of the Democratic party on the slavery question." [illegible] for such an [illegible] Slavery is dead, with all its incidents, and the Democratic party shows no disposition anywhere in the country to revive slavery [illegible], or to [illegible] negro suffrage.

We would like to know what the Oregon [illegible] think of the sentiments of their [illegible] brethren as expressed in this extract, and especially in the last clause of it. Are they willing to join them in conceding that "negro suffrage shall not be unsettled?" Probably not. We fear that Missouri Democracy would not be accepted in Oregon as the genuine article

The single victory gained by the army of the Loire has availed the French nothing. That army lost its opportunity by not moving with celerity and striking with vigor after its [illegible] battle. It waited till the Germans [illegible] powerfully reinforced by the army that was beseiging Metz; and now there a repetition of former French disasters. Paris is farther from success than ever, and evidently must capitulate. Recent fighting seems to have been the bloodiest of the war. Had the French fought as well when they had their fine armies at the beginning of the war as they now fight in their desperation with forces numerically inferior, the result might have been different. As it is they are betrayed by imbecility, or by a species of treachery even worse, and their subjugation cannot be averted nor much longer delayed

The Herald says the railroad subsidy bill was a very unpopular measure in Portland. We remember, however, that Mr Stout, in a speech in the Senate in opposition to the bill, said "In the last election the Democrats of Portland were beaten by four hundred majority. Pass this bill and in the next election they will be beaten by eight hundred." And the Herald, too, appealed to Gov. Grover to veto the bill if he would save the Democratic party. It appears then that these eminent Democratic authorities thought when the measure was before the Legislature it was so popular that if it became a law it would receive the endorsement of nearly the unanimous vote of Portland. Consistency is not one of the virtues of the "State organ

A child at Olympia got a pumpkin seed stuck in its throat, and a surgical operation became necessary to relieve it. By cutting from the outside the seed was removed, but the child is in a dangerous condition

A Secret Out

On Saturday the [illegible] appear [illegible] in the Herald a letter from a special correspondent respecting the railroad excursion to Albany. The writer says he was commissioned to report the proceedings on the occasion for that paper "You know," he observes. I have always been a Democrat, opposed the subsidy bill and have been a great friend of the Herald.' But he made no report and excuses the failure in these words

The fact is I started out with a note book in my pocket and a good intention in my head but owing to the frequent and copious libation of the good old Bourbon they had on board the cars I came back to town with an utter forgetfulness of my promise

The writer further says that during the whole trip he was a 'Holladay man' and cheered so loudly and lustily that when he woke up the next morning he was "so hoarse he could hardly speak." "I kept aboard the cars" continues he, ' all the time they were at Albany once in a while taking a drink and this is all I know about the celebration.' However he affirms that since he has 'got over the influence of his railroad potations' that his 'former convictions are fully restored,' and he has "about come to the sober conclusion that he made a fool of himself."

We did not exactly know when this letter first appeared to whom its authorship was to be attributed. But the Herald in its next issue furnished a satisfactory explanation. Mr A B Hallock has injudiciously let the secret out. In a letter to that paper which was published on Sunday, he declares that he did not sign the excursion resolutions which have appeared in the papers. Now inasmuch as his name plainly appears there among a large number of others the conclusion is irresistible that he was the Herald's reporter who was oblivious to all that passed and that he signed the resolutions without knowing it. This explains the whole matter. It was well enough for Mr Hallock to put himself right. But we fear that gentleman has not spoken in his last letter with quite his accustomed accuracy, and therefore we would suggest that instead of affirming so positively that he did not sign the resolutions he would better had said that he did not remember of having signed them.

An Apology for Public Gambling

R B Swain, President of the Mercantile Library A[illegible] has undertaken to justify the [illegible] great lottery scheme, which has introduced a mania for public gambling in all parts of California. It will be seen by the extracts from his 'defense' which we give below, that the only justification he can offer is the [illegible] condition in which the Library Association found itself, and the necessity of the lottery scheme to save it from dissolution and bankruptcy. Of course other parties who get up these public gambling schemes will be able to make a similar plea of necessity, and if it is good in one case it may be as good in another. But we proceed to quote what Mr Swain says

There was one remedy. It had been suggested before, but its policy was exceptionable. Of its success there could be no doubt. If the Trustees hesitated to apply so doubtful a process before they had exhausted all other means to save the Library, they now hesitated no longer. A bill was presented to the Legislature then in session, authorizing the Mercantile Library Association to hold three entertainments, at which, or by means of which, various kinds of property could be disposed of by raffle or other games of chance, provided the proceeds were devoted to the liquidation of the indebtedness of the Library.

The bill simply asked the sanction of the law to a practice which has been recognized as a right and a rule at most of the Church and Charity Fairs in this and other States for many years. It was passed entirely upon its merits. The principle had been recognized in the Fairs of the Christian and Sanitary Commissions which were held during the war of the rebellion, and had received the sanction of the Government so far that gift entertainments, raffles, and schemes of the like nature, held for the benefit of sick or wounded soldiers, or for charitable or benevolent purposes, are exempt entirely from taxation. Although there are stringent provisions of law against schemes of this nature, the members of both branches of the Legislature generously voted to suspend their operation for the exclusive use and benefit of the Library. Nor did the Governor, who had been one of the earliest friends and supporters of the institution, hesitate to set aside his scruples, under the extraordinary circumstances of the case, in signing the bill.

A contract was at length made with Maurice Dore and Charles B Peters, gentlemen of high character and respectability in the community, by which they obligated themselves to sell 200,000 tickets for a grand Gift Concert, to be held September 1st, at $5 each, and to distribute from the funds so received the sum of $500 000 in gifts, reserving twelve and a half per cent of the gross amount to meet the necessary expenses. This arrangement met the unanimous approval of the Board, as well as of those who had been called into their counsels

I have nothing to offer in justification of the enterprise, the history of which I have never narrated, but the crushing necessities of the case, and the precedents furnished by many educational and religious institutions in the country not less worthy, and now of great influence, which have been saved by a precisely similar process. Williams College, in Massachusetts, whose President recently honored this city with a visit, was relieved of its burdens in a like manner. There are but few churches in the State a part of whose yearly revenue is not derived from such a source. Scarcely a fair is held in the name of charity whose receipts are not swelled by a like operation, differing only in degree. And the Parliament of England, where the laws against schemes of this nature are very stringent, grants a special privilege yearly for the support of an Art Union. * * * The principle by which the institution was saved, whether it appear at a church and charity fair, in the interest of religion and humanity, or at Mercantile Library Gift Concerts in the interests of literature and art is corrupting and demoralizing. It is unfortunate that such a necessity existed. It must be frankly admitted that the objections urged against the scheme, the denunciations hurled against it by press public, and pulpit were in a great degree merited. But it found its sanction and excuse only in the pressing necessity which existed of saving the institution from annihilation. It has, at all events with general public aid been carried through to a successful termination

Protection of Southern Unionists

A Washington dispatch of the 24th ult says that at the Cabinet meeting two days before, after a discussion on the condition of affairs in the South and the outrage upon Union men in nearly all sections it was definitely determined to use the whole power of the government through the medium of the existing law, to secure citizens their lives and their property. The dispatch adds:

Very full evidence, collected by Union men of high standing, concerning regular organizations of Ku Klux bands in various sections and especially in Central Kentucky, was laid before the President by Secretary Belknap and by the former placed before the Cabinet. Complete knowledge has been obtained of these organizations, and the names of members who have been implicated in murders, burnings, and whippings have been obtained. Gen Terry, now here, whose district includes Kentucky, has been informed of the exact condition of affairs, and of the purposes of the administration. He will co operate heartily and will have the troops throughout his department and the officers of the United States Courts in serving their writs and executing their decrees.

The President after hearing the evidence presented said emphatically, that he would use all the force Congress would give him in executing the laws in the South, and punishing all members of lawless bands that could be arrested. This movement will begin in January. A company of troops will arrive in Lexington or Lancaster to-morrow, and will shortly be followed by others. There are nearly one hundred persons in that section who are known to have been engaged in outrages against white and colored Unionists within the past year. The intention is to arrest all such through the civil authorities of the State when the latter are loyal and through the United States courts when they are not and try all before the latter courts. The administration has decided to take the matter in hand wherever needed throughout the South as fast as troops can be spared for the work and despatched to the most disorderly sections

It is used chiefly in the coal mines at Nanaimo, where, previous to the strike, it brought from 45 to 50 cents a gallon imperial measure, but owing to the suspension of active mining operations there, the oil now finds limited sale at from 37½ to 40 cents. Sunday Jan 8—Sermons—Subject Faith, Hope and Love essential witnesses for the truth.

Launch of the Railroad Ferry Boat—At nine o'clock Saturday morning, the O & C Railroad Company's ferry boat was launched from the ways at East Portland. She went off in splendid style, moving as smoothly down the ways as if … in her own element, and, without taking a drop of water on deck, shot swiftly out into the … of the river. As she cleared the ways the crowd on board and on shore, sent up a cheer, and one of the steamships on the Portland side saluted her with a gun at the moment of launch There were on board sixty or seventy people, among them, one lady, Mr N J Owen, a relative of the builder, Mr W. M Owen The boat … at the peak of a flagstaff at either end an … wreath of ivy, made and presented by Mrs Owen, and on one staff the U S flag and on the other the boat's colors The launch was witnessed by hundreds of people who thronged the … on this side and the beach at East Portland. The boat, in a few moments came … the new steamship dock with without … of a tow, and she was then … up to the Gas Company's where those on board debarked. She sits in the water very …, her water line being at least a foot out … Yesterday she was hauled up alongside the … at the P P Company's wharf. Here … gets a better idea of her great height … The floor of her cabin is at … feet above the hurricane deck of the … and the latter looks very dwarfed beside … She measures one hundred and twenty feet … and one hundred and thirty feet on the deck, thirty one feet beam, and to the … of guards at the widest, fifty six and a … feet, depth of hold nine feet, and tonnage, carpenter's measurement, three hundred and … tons Her steam power consists of three … fourteen feet long, four feet three inches in …, with forty two tubes each; the engines … the most powerful construction, the cylinders … a diameter each of twenty four inches … stroke of three feet. The shafts of her … are disconnected, so that they may turn … or in reverse order at the will of the … We have heretofore described her in other … and do not need to repeat It is expected that she will make a trial trip some miles … the river this afternoon

"… Lack of Public Spirit"—The … Tribune uses the following very just … in relation to our late Board of State Immigration and Labor Exchange "Portland … the death of the Labor … of that city, the State Legislature and … city fathers of Portland alike failing to provide … its maintenance. We have watched with much interest the progress of this enterprise from … Sustained by the contributions of a few public spirited men, it has been of incalculable … to all the people of the State. Through … hundreds of new comers have found … and thousands of people east of the …, and even across the broad Atlantic, … from its publications of the … young State of Oregon. It has first promoted immigration, and then furnished labor to the … The expense has been trifling, the … manifold. Such institutions should be … in all new countries by the State, and … Oregon has failed to do this indicates a … of statesmanlike sagacity, and of that … which builds up new and prosperous cities."

The Labor Exchange … only $5,000, but it had no money … to go into the legislative market to … votes. Consequently it was neglected, … was squandered on a ring who got … that they could afford to pay well for it.

… Accidentally Shot—Dr. Chapman … in haste yesterday morning to attend … a couple of miles below the city, who had … shot himself with a shot-gun The … son of Mr. Bevis, was out with a shot … with which he undertook to climb a fence … he jumped to the ground he held the gun … the muzzle, the barrel lying across the … he pulled it toward him the hammer … on the rail and exploded the charge, the … receiving a great part of it in his breast. … was so much above him that the shot … down, glancing from the breast bone, … down along under the skin, some of them … out as low as the hip. Dr. Chapman … about fifty bird shot from the boy, and … reported as doing well. The case is … as to the utility in the human anatomy … bone.

The Catholic Fair—This Fair closed Saturday night, after four days and evenings of social … among visitors, and bountiful gathering of profits by the fair conductors. The articles not before sold were disposed of at auction by Mr. S J McCormick, realizing very fair prices. We are not informed as to the total receipts, but they must have attained to very considerable figures.

Leg Amputated—Mr L G. Smith, the man who was shot at Albany the other day, while trying to separate two fighting men, submitted to amputation of his leg last Saturday, at the … Exchange, in this city The limb was taken off several inches above the knee, by Doctors … and Wilson The patient is considered in a critical condition.

Personals—Among the notables who will leave by steamer to-day are Ben Holliday and ex-Gov. Woods, who are both going east on business.

… Blanchet is among the passengers for Portland by the steamship California, now out from San Francisco.

New Bridge—We are requested to state that a fine bridge has been completed across the Tualatin River, at Scholl's, on the road from Portland to Lafayette and Dayton The bridge is constructed in a first-class style of architecture is three … feet long, by twenty feet wide, and is thirty five feet above low water mark

Imports and Exports—The total declared value of imports at this port (from foreign …) during the month of November was $…41. During the same period the exports of produce to foreign ports amounted to $…30. Of exports coastwise only partial returns are made at the custom house

Arrived—The Okanagon arrived at 12 30 P M yesterday from Astoria, having in tow the bark Timor Proposito loaded with railroad material. She has about 700 tons of rails, and a considerable quantity of other railroad material

Over the Bar—When the Okanagon left Astoria Saturday morning, the bark Alaatia, from San Francisco, was off the bar with a pilot on board. She will probably arrive here about to-night.

Again Postponed—The sailing of the steamship Oriflamme was again postponed yesterday till 3 o'clock P M to day, at which hour, sharp, she will leave her dock for San Francisco.

AMUSEMENTS.

Oro Fino Theatre—This place of amusement was full, almost to its utmost capacity, Saturday evening, on the occasion of the first performance of "Mazeppa." The story of this play is founded upon Lord Byron's poem of the same name, and in brief is something as follows: Abder Khan, King of Tartary, in one of his wars with the Poles, loses his child, Mazeppa who is carried off to the castle of Laurenske, where he grows to manhood a brave, handsome fellow, the adored of all the women and the envy of all the men He loves Olinska the daughter of the Castellan, and is loved by her in return The father, however has other views for his daughter and contracts a marriage for her with the Count Palatine Mazeppa, upon learning this, arranges to carry her off, and otherwise conducts himself like a madcap lover and of course gets into trouble. The Castellan dooms him to the horrible fate of being bound to the back of a wild Tartar horse, which is actually done and the horse is turned loose By instinct the horse takes its flight toward Tartary, and finally falls exhausted within the territory of the Khan, where Mazeppa is discovered still bound to the horse, and is relieved from his horrible situation by the Khan himself and his people. The King recognizes him as his long lost son and proclaims him his successor to the throne of Tartary. After his recovery Mazeppa defeats a conspiracy against the life of himself and his father, then organizes an expedition against the Poles, defeats them and receiving his beloved Olinska from the very altar where she has been led to wed the Count Palatine carries her off Of course, in the elaboration of the story there are many incidents and situations which, to mention, would require too much space. It is an exciting, wild drama, requiring in its representations not only an unusual number of people, but a great many entirely new stage accessories The scenery and properties gotten up by Mr Whitter, expressly for this piece, cost but little less than two hundred dollars. Of the representation of the drama, we have first to say that whatever objectionable features have ever been interpolated by other female Mazeppas were most studiously avoided by Mrs Bates, who gave the character a purely chaste rendering, to which even Prudery itself could not object Her dramatic personation of the impetuous young Tartar invested the character to a striking degree with the romance and poetry of the original story. She was intense in the love passion, wild and impetuous in anger, daring and gallant in the equestrian and battle scenes and graceful in the tableaux The personation must take its place in the long list of her triumphs Of the other characters, Mr Bates' Premislas was but a minor part, though performed with his usual correct tact Mr. Vinson's Khan was a very superior and effective personation—one of his best, which is saying all that can be necessary Ellerton created much merriment with his Drolinski, though we have seen him do better. Miss Ingles achieved a decided success as Remila, Clinton's Rudgloff was very good, and Miss Cummings' Olinska was quite fair As Thamar, Mr. Cook would be a success if he would get rid of his rehearsal drawl and put a little more intensity into both speech and acting He is capable of it The drama will be presented again to-night, with everything carefully prepared to render it perfect

On account of the small price at which Jewelry, Watches, &c are sold at B L Stone's, some persons think they cannot be genuine, but Mr. Stone guarantees every article that he sells to be just what he sells it for He is satisfied with small profits consequently he can sell cheap

Why is it that Kohn & Fishel keep the largest supply of Clothing in this city?
Because their sales require it.
Why can they afford to sell cheaper than any other house
Because they buy in large quantities and get them cheaper and because they are satisfied with small profits and quick returns which system has brought them an enormous trade and made them first in their business in the city

December is here with her storms and her rain
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain
Hark ye, dear gentlemen this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof against the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply that all who go there
Unlike Flora McFlimsey can find something to wear

A Rebellious Stomach.—The stomach, like the body politic resents ill-treatment by rebellion. And when it rebels, the liver, the bowels the nerves, the circulation the brain revolt likewise, and the whole system is disastrously affected … the deranged digestive organ first, and the disturbance in its dependencies will speedily cease. The tonic, alterative corrective and purifying properties of TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT renders it an irresistible remedy in cases of indigestion and its concomitant ailments. It is a fine stomachic, and its cathartic operation is so mild and genial that it never produces the slightest symptoms of debility

Bridal Presents.

I did not purchase for my bride
Rich jewelled rings and costly fans,
But what I thought would be her pride—
A set complete of pots and pans.

I would not win sweet Jenny's love
By golden gifts of magic power;
If she a proper wife would prove,
She would [illegible] some bags of flour.

I did not play with Jenny's heart,
Nor try to fix if it were fickle,
But sent, distrusting modern art,
A side of pork for her to pickle.

I did not give her rubies red,
To lend her raven hair relief;
But what would charm when we were wed—
A good supply of potted beef.

I did not wanton with her love,
I [illegible] to nestle on my breast,
Just like a drooping, tired dove;
But sent a couch where it could rest.

I did not, when the moon was bright,
Take Jenny out for tranquil walks,
But took her—what would more delight—
A dozen each of knives and forks

I did not send her flow'rets bright,
Whose brightness, ah so quickly wanes,
But comfort in the darkest night,
A set of [illegible] and counterpanes

And so at last our little store
[illegible] as well as tried cot;
[illegible] I [illegible] have and bake,
She jilted me, and kept the lot.

Report of the Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, December 1.—The report of the Postmaster General gives the following statement of the revenue and expenses of that service: The ordinary revenues of the Department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1870, were $19,772,229 65, and the expenditures of all kinds, $23,998,837 63. For the year ending June 30th, 1869, the ordinary revenues were $18,344,510 72, and the expenditures $26,698,131 50; increase of revenue for 1870 over the year 1869, was $1,427,709 93, or seven and [illegible] eighths per cent., and the increase in expenditures, th[illegible] and a half per cent. showing a net increase in the revenue of $1,127,093 30. The increase of revenue in the year 1870 over the year 1868, was $3,479,619 85, or twenty-one and seven twentieths per cent.; and the increase of [illegible] [illegible]tures for 1870 over 1868 was $1,258,244 98. The increase in revenue for 1870 as compared with 1869, was less than the increase for 1869 as compared with 1868, by $624,190 99, and the increase in expenditures for 1870, compared with 1869, was less than the increase for 1869, compared with 1868, by $469,832 72. If in addition to the ordinary revenue, the Department be credited with $7,809,000 appropriated for free matter, and the [illegible] drawn and expended for subsidies to steamship lines, it will appear that the deficiency provided out of the general treasury, for the year 1870, will be $2,314,116 98, against $397,028 45 for the year 1869.

There were in the service of the Department on the 30th of June, 1870, 7,205 contractors for the transportation of mails. Of the mail routes in operation, there were 8,861, aggregating in length 231,232 miles. The annual transportation is 97,024,995 miles, at the [illegible] of [illegible]. Adding compensation of railways, [illegible], route agents, local agents, mail [illegible], [illegible] route messengers, and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. The service was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]; the total increase in cost was $673,815. This statement does not include service for special officers.

The report calls [illegible] to the complaints of railroads that their pay for mail services is insufficient, and many refuse to enter into contracts with the Department at present prices. The Postmaster General says careful examination convinces him these complaints are just, and he recommends the readjustment of their pay, requiring at the same time a contract from them before receiving additional compensation. The United States postage on mails conveyed to and from the West Indies, Mexico, Panama, the South Pacific, and the Belize at Honduras, amounted to $120,951, and the amount paid for the conveyance thereof was $72,456.

The contractors for mail steamship service from New York to Rio Janeiro, Brazil, and from San Francisco to Japan and China, have performed in a satisfactory manner the full service required by their respective contracts of twelve round trips per annum; but ten round trips only have been [illegible] by the steamships of the California, Oregon and Mexican Steamship Company contractors for monthly service between San Francisco and H[illegible], Hawaiian Islands.

He says: "I freely renew the [illegible] [illegible] in my last report for the increase of the mail service from [illegible] monthly trips on the mail [illegible] from San Francisco to Japan and China [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] great national [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this line of American [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of providing in [illegible] facilities of communication with those [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the Chairman of the [illegible] Committee on Postoffices and Post [illegible], in which [illegible] was shown from official sources the growth of our trade with Japan and China since the [illegible] establishment; with the amount of correspondence [illegible] reported, and the financial results of the [illegible]. [illegible] to refer to that communication for the [illegible] considerations which render it expedient in my judgment to sustain this important national enterprise, and to express the hope that Congress will promptly pass the bill reported by the [illegible] Committee on postoffices and post-roads at the last session, authorizing an [illegible] of the service to semi-monthly trips, [illegible] the [illegible] terms and [illegible] as the present [illegible]."

The Postmaster General renews his recommendation for the abolishment of the franking privilege, and says he is thoroughly satisfied that it would make the Department in a short time self-sustaining. He recommends the adoption of the postal card [illegible] [illegible] that the rate be fixed at one cent, including the cost of card, as a first [illegible] general reduction of letter postage. He recommends that postage on all printed matter, including newspapers, be required to be prepaid by stamps, the law allowing subscribers to pay postage in any way at the office of delivery, subjecting the Department to heavy losses. This is the only change [illegible] [illegible] in regard to newspapers.

[illegible] Territory Penitentiary.

The Olympia Tribune has seen a map showing the site selected for the Washington Territory Penitentiary, and the adjacent islands and mainland. Congress will at once be asked to make an appropriation to erect the building. Of the site the Tribune thus speaks:

The site chosen is upon McNeil's island, which contains five or six sections of land, and is well adapted to the purpose, being bountifully supplied with water and having an abundance of wood for fuel or other uses in the vicinity. It is of easy access, within plain sight of Steilacoom and of all vessels passing up or down the Sound, and not to be [illegible] for healthfulness. The title is undoubted.

We can conceive of no possible objection the Department can have to the site now selected for the Penitentiary. If there be no informality in the papers, which appear to have been drawn up in strict compliance with the law, we shall look for the early commencement of work upon the building. But, for bungling at the outset, in which the Legislature was not least at fault, it might have been completed ere this.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of yearsstanding) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies. See that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal [illegible], the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, [illegible] tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, [illegible] and frequent insanity. If relief be not [illegible], should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] rity to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible]

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are laboring under any of these [illegible] [illegible], should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON [illegible], and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearny street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultation FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR the information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminous with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870 The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government. The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON.

IS NOW PREPARED TO [illegible] to their Stock

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES [illegible] before the books were [illegible], and a large [illegible] Shares have been taken

The following [illegible] from the [illegible] will convey [illegible] of the plan and [illegible] the Association. [illegible]

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association, of whose [illegible] an account a few days since is now ready [illegible] pose of shares [illegible] with one [illegible] Portland Homestead Association, [illegible] [illegible] that kind in this city, [illegible] well enough to state what are its [illegible] the manner which it is proposed to [illegible] operations. The purposes of them [illegible] Association are not at all [illegible] [illegible] sense of the word. They [illegible] [illegible] the profits of their investment [illegible] [illegible] in the value of their [illegible] [illegible] the operation of many [illegible] shareholders and the advance [illegible] [illegible] by reason of the [illegible] population and demand for [illegible] near the city. The [illegible] Association has a fee [illegible] twenty acres of land situated [illegible] [illegible] on the east side of the [illegible] east boundary line being [illegible] ferry landing at East [illegible] [illegible] strip along the Willamette [illegible] length, and another strip [illegible] California railroad, half a mile [illegible] strip being connected near [illegible] rows of blocks (with a street [illegible] whole forming a figure [illegible] It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 lots streets running at right angles [illegible] along the river front. [illegible] ber 150, worth $50 per [illegible] a share thus [illegible] vided [illegible] In the 30 [illegible] [illegible] shares are to be sold [illegible] for the benefit of the Association [illegible] [illegible] to for the proceeds [illegible] number of shares held. [illegible] taken and the Association [illegible] [illegible] to do it, the [illegible] will be put up at [illegible] bidder the proceeds of such sale [illegible] the original price of shares [illegible] equally among the [illegible] Thus if a person wants a [illegible] and is willing to pay $100 or [illegible] or less as the case may be [illegible] the [illegible] block as his [illegible] premium being divided among the [illegible] of shareholders. It will be [illegible] everything is an operation, and [illegible] [illegible] but man can make a [illegible] out also making a dollar [illegible] shareholder. There is no [illegible] the property, by some [illegible] far below the first [illegible] liable to happen in the [illegible] tract of land must be [illegible] but considering the steady and [illegible] value on real [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at East Portland [illegible] last [illegible] two, it [illegible] values to go back

In the Riverside [illegible] [illegible] there seem to have been [illegible] monopolies of shares. No [illegible] buy more than the [illegible] of shares three blocks, or [illegible] terminating the [illegible] restricted to the same [illegible] shares may pay [illegible] exempt them from all [illegible] pay $15 quarterly with an [illegible] share, payable with the [illegible] liable to this latter case to [illegible] [illegible] amount of $2 per [illegible] payment of the shares in [illegible] as above, the holder is [illegible] and his [illegible] [illegible] of all the [illegible] all sources. No officer of the [illegible] any pay for services [illegible] gets $25 per month [illegible] expenses must be [illegible]

That part of the tract lying [illegible] a high plateau, nearly level, [illegible] above the water [illegible] row of blocks between [illegible] Portland and the river for [illegible] stream. That part of the [illegible] railroad is every foot of it, of the soil and adapted to [illegible] beautiful little [illegible] of pure water [illegible] almost the entire length of this [illegible] affording the means of [illegible] ficient to supply pure water to [illegible] whole tract. There is not a [illegible] lot in the entire tract [illegible] tages, it would seem [illegible] be any chance of loss to [illegible] year each shareholder, if he [illegible] perfect title to as many lots as his [illegible] represent, as he may [illegible] vided, with the A[illegible] tion may exist [illegible]

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD [illegible]

We have been led to make these [illegible] fact that the subject [illegible] skirts of this city and East Portland, is being discussed here among all classes, and [illegible] "Riverside," just south of East Portland [illegible] been established. The site selected is a [illegible] ing a little over a mile south of the ferry [illegible] shaped like the letter H, one side of which [illegible] in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the [illegible] which is [illegible] but a trifle above the other prong of the H, but is [illegible] forty or fifty feet above the river [illegible] sive view of Portland, East Portland, [illegible] the Willamette river for [illegible]. The land is [illegible] fertile, and is partly covered with light fir timber [illegible] tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks with an avenue between them, [illegible] of the H (which has already been [illegible] the east. This last tract of land is in a [illegible] valley, which is now under a high state of [illegible]. Through its whole length runs a [illegible] brook, the water of which is clear as crystal. With [illegible] Association proposes to have water conveyed [illegible] pipes to every portion of the homestead.—[illegible]
